

Future Voter Reading Program

Read...Learn...Vote!

The Kansas City Election Board is introducing a new Future Voter Reading Program to all elementary schools in Kansas City!

What Is The Program All About?

The “Future Voter Reading Program” is designed to educate students at an early age about the importance of voting. An election board official will come to your school and read one to two books to the designated classes. Book contents will include the importance of voting, how to vote, etc. Students will be able to ask questions at the end of the book reading session. Each class will also receive “Future Voter” stickers.

How Can Our School Participate?

E-mail the Kansas City Election Board at claire@kceb.org or johnt@kceb.org and place your school’s name on the list to participate in the “Future Voter Reading Program.” Provide the time you wish us to come and a contact person and telephone number for us to call and confirm.

What Are The Benefits Of The Program?

Students will learn about the importance of voting at an early age. This will help prepare the students to vote in the future when they turn eighteen years of age. The program will also help students encourage their parents to vote.
